A Provider You Should Know

by Kim Klimek, Compliance Manager

For the past three years, Mrs. Nicole Secketa has owned and operated Little Owl's Home Day Care located in Lake Villa. Mrs. Secketa became a babysitter at the age of 12. Even at this young age, Mrs. Secketa knew that she wanted to work with children for a career. Upon completing high school, Mrs. Secketa worked as a nanny, then was employed at a day care center. In total, Mrs. Secketa has been caring for children for over 20 years. After having children of her own, Mrs. Secketa decided to open her own day care home.

Little Owl's Home Day Care is licensed to care for children between the ages of 6 weeks – 12 years old. The home day care typically cares for children between infancy – 4 years old. Mrs. Secketa prefers to care for young children and the day care is not set up for school age children. By the time the children are nearing kindergarten, they typically move on from her day care home to a more traditional school

EAT YOUR FRUITS & VEGETABLES!

Two years ago, USDA (US Department of Agriculture) changed the vegetable serving requirements for lunch and supper. Fruits and vegetables are separate components at lunch, supper and snack.

An allowable lunch or supper includes:

- A vegetable and a fruit Or 2 different vegetables.
- Two fruits cannot be served

LUNCH & SUPPER
Sample Menus for non-infants ages 2 - 12
ALLOWED	ALLOWED	NOT ALLOWED	NOT ALLOWED
Chicken	Chicken	Chicken	Chicken
Carrots	Carrots	Carrots	Kiwi
Broccoli	Apples	Carrots (2 nd serving)	Apples
Whole Wheat Bun	Whole Wheat Bun	Whole Wheat Bun	Whole Wheat Bun
1% Milk	1% Milk	1% Milk	1% Milk

An allowable snack includes:

- A fruit and a vegetable can be served as 2 required components.
- Items from two different components must be served, therefore, 2 fruits or 2 vegetables cannot be served.

SNACKS
Sample Menus for non-infants ages 2 - 12
ALLOWED	NOT ALLOWED	NOT ALLOWED
Kiwi	Carrots	Strawberries
Carrots	Celery	Bananas

There is no change to the fruit and vegetable requirement for breakfast.

Vegetable and Fruit Serving Size Requirements

The minimum serving sizes for the vegetable and fruit components are:

AGES	1 – 2 years	3 – 5 years	6 – 12 years
Breakfast	¼ cup	½ cup	½ cup
LUNCH & SUPPER
Vegetables	⅓ cup	¼ cup	½ cup
Fruits	⅓ cup	¼ cup	¼ cup
SNACKS
Vegetables	½ cup	½ cup	¾ cup
Fruits	½ cup	½ cup	¾ cup

- When 2 vegetables are served at lunch/supper, the serving size of the second vegetable must be at least the same serving size as the fruit component it replaced.
- The serving size of the fruit and vegetable components are equal at lunch/supper and snack for each age group except 6 – 12 year olds at lunch/supper.

Fruit and Vegetable Mixtures

Mixtures of vegetables and fruits, such as a carrot-raisin salad, can only count towards the vegetable or the fruit component, not both.

- Combination vegetables credit as one vegetable.
- If 2 vegetables are served at lunch/supper, the combination item counts as one vegetable, and another vegetable will need to be served. Example: 1) peas and carrots 2) broccoli.
- Double the amount of the combination item cannot be served.

Juice

- Can only be served one meal or snack per day, even if snacks and meals are served to different groups of participants.
- If juice is served at more than one meal or snack a day, the least reimbursable meal or snack serving juice must not be claimed. For example, if juice is served at breakfast and snack, snack must not be claimed.

Record the specific fruit and vegetable served for each meal or snack in KidKare, on Daily Meal Worksheets or on paper menus.

How to Vary Your Veggies

- Buy fresh vegetables in season because they cost less and are likely to be at their peak flavor.
- Stock up on frozen vegetables for quick and easy cooking in the microwave.
- Buy vegetables that are easy to prepare.
- Cut up veggies such as celery and carrots (and store) for quick snacks. Crunchy veggies make fun snacks!
- Vary your veggie choices to keep meals and snacks interesting to the children.

Best Nutritional Value

- Select vegetables with more potassium often, such as sweet potatoes, white potatoes, white beans, tomato products (paste and sauce) beet greens, soybeans, lima beans, spinach, lentils, and kidney beans.
- Read/Compare the Nutrition Facts Label sodium level on canned and frozen veggies to ensure you are making healthy choices.
- If you are using canned or frozen vegetables, cook it, then taste it before adding salt.

Best PRACTICES

- Serve a vegetable or fruit for at least 1 of the 2 required components of a snack.
- Serve a variety of fruits and vegetables (fresh, frozen, and canned).

setting. Mrs. Secketa feels strongly that children should be around children of their own age.

A typical day at Little Owl's Home Day Care begins with circle time. During circle time, the children learn the days of the week, months of the year, numbers, and the alphabet. Although Mrs. Secketa does not follow a specific curriculum, she makes sure the children are exposed to educational and sensory activities throughout the day. After circle time, the children engage in free play. During free play, the children are encouraged to play and explore the variety of sensory-based educational toys, such as building blocks. On occasion, Mrs. Secketa has visitors come to the home to perform using musical instruments and engaging the children to sing. In December, Mrs. Claus visits the day care home to read to the children. The children love visitors!

Little Owl's Home Day Care believes that communication with the parents is essential to the success of the day care home provider and utilizes its own daily communication app. The parents are able to check the app to see how and what their child(ren) are doing and eating throughout the day. Mrs. Secketa also writes a newsletter twice a year including a review of the day care home handbook and policies, as well as DCFS updated requirements. The newsletter is designed for the parents/guardians to read as well as share with the children.

Little Owl's Home Day Care wants each child to feel safe and secure and prefers to care for a small group of children. There are always extra hands on deck as Mr. Secketa and his mother are approved assistants for the day care home.

Mr. Secketa is the cook for the day care home. He serves homemade meals only and will not serve any processed foods.

Little Owl's Home Day Care knows the importance of healthy, nutritious meals and snacks. Most of the meals and snacks they serve incorporate a plant-based diet. Once a week, the day care will serve meat to the children. When meat is served, they only use grass-fed beef and free-range chicken. Mrs. Secketa believes it is important to expose the children to a variety of vegetables when they are very young. Offering a variety of vegetables to young children helps to develop their taste buds which will strengthen their interest in eating a variety of vegetables throughout their lives.

The day care home serves whole grains as well. They make their own cheese (yummy and fresh) and serve very creative meals. An example is their homemade macaroni and cheese. Although they do serve cheese, sometimes the "cheese" sauce is actually made from butternut squash or sweet potato sauce. The children do not know the difference! Other examples are a carrot dog instead of a hot dog, a chickpea salad sandwich instead of egg salad and pulled jack fruit instead of pulled pork. Little Owl's Home Day Care tries to make meal time fun.

Mrs. Secketa keeps up with her food program responsibilities by entering her meals and attendance daily. In general, she will enter the menus in the morning and update the attendance throughout the day. On occasion, their internet connection is down or KidKare is not working properly. Mrs. Secketa prints a Daily Meal Worksheet from her KidKare account and records her menus/attendance in order to ensure she is up to date with her menus and attendance. As we know, this is one of the most important ingredients to successful food program participation.

Mrs. Secketa is active on social media day care sites and networks with other providers in her area. She prefers online training and utilizes Gateways, INCCRRA, and ICCB websites to help her complete her required continuing education/training each year. In addition, she utilizes the training resources to stay on top of current issues in the day care industry. When she needs to renew her CPR certification, she has someone come to her home for the training.

According to Mrs. Secketa, the most rewarding part of her career is, "watching the children learn, grow and explore". Little Owl's Home Day Care strives to make every child feel special and important. For the children in care, it is their home away from home. The most challenging issues are behavioral such as biting, hitting and pushing. When the children do not get along, it is very difficult. Mrs. Secketa admitted that this career can be challenging. When asked if she would choose this career again, she readily agreed by stating, "Oh yes! Of course, until I retire".

- Offer at least 1 serving of each of dark green vegetables, red & orange vegetables, beans & peas (legumes), starchy vegetables, and other vegetables each week.
- Plan meals around a vegetable main dish, such as a vegetable stir-fry or soup. Then add other foods to complement it.
- Include a green salad at supper. Allow the children to choose the items in the salad and let them choose their salad dressing.
- Shred carrots or zucchini into meatloaf and casseroles.
- If age-appropriate, teach the children how to clean, peel, and cut veggies. Some children may prefer that you store each vegetable separately.

Super Rescue Soup

by Peter Murphy, age 9

"We live on Long Island, and when Hurricane Sandy struck, we were without power for 15 days," reports Peter's mom, Jill. "The grocery stores had no produce, dairy, or meat, but it was harvest time at our local farm stand, so there was plenty of fresh produce available there. We filled a wagon with fresh produce, added some pantry staples, and came up with this soup, which we could cook on our gas stovetop."

Ingredients

- ½ cup dried cannellini beans (or 1 15 oz can, drained, and rinsed)
- ½ cup pearl barley
- 2 TB olive oil
- 1 small onion, finely chopped
- 2 medium carrots (scrubbed and finely chopped)
- 2 cups finely chopped celery
- 1 medium zucchini (quartered lengthwise and cut into ½ inch pieces)
- ¾ cup green beans (cut in ½ inch pieces)
- 1 russet potato (peeled and cut into ½ inch cubes)
- ½ cup tomato sauce (or one medium tomato, chopped)
- ½ tsp salt (or to taste)

Instructions

1. If using dried beans, soak them overnight or do a quick soak (boil for 2 minutes, then remove them from the heat and let soak for 1 hour).
2. In a medium saucepan over moderate heat, cover the presoaked beans with 2 inches of water and cook until tender, about 30 minutes. Add 1 ¼ cups of water, bring to a boil, and add the barley. Lower the heat and simmer for 45 minutes. Set aside. (If using canned beans, wait to add them to the soup until step 4.)
3. In a large saucepan over moderate heat, warm the olive oil. Add the onion, carrots, and celery and sauté, stirring occasionally, until translucent, about 5 minutes. Add the zucchini and green beans and sauté until beginning to soften, about 3 minutes. Add the potato and sauté, stirring occasionally, for 3 minutes.
4. Add 6 cups of water and the tomato sauce, raise the heat, and bring the soup to a boil. Lower the heat and simmer for 20 minutes. Add the beans and barley and continue to simmer for 5 more minutes. Season with salt, and purée with an immersion blender, if desired.
